Cox Communications in Roanoke Virginia has an opening for a Central Systems Technician I. This position, under direct or general supervision, performs work involving installation, test, and maintenance of voice, video, and data communications systems in an MTC or Headend environment. Systems involve MTC network elements including alternate access, telephony services, transmission and distribution systems, Hybrid Fiber Coax (HFC) network, Fibernet services, and other voice grade and high capacity services. Experience in Data Communications/UNIX Administration a strong plus.

Requires two (2) years of formal electronics training beyond a high school diploma or equivalent. ASEE or equivalent required for broadband specialties. Requires a minimum of one (two years desired) of technician/service or equivalent "hands on" experience with CATV, fiber optics, microwave, broadband, or telephony experience, as required by specialty. Must be knowledgeable in local, state, and federal regulations regarding cable television and be familiar with the National Electric Safety Code. Requires a working knowledge of cable television distribution systems and test equipment, including spectrum analyzers, QAM analyzers, and optical TDRs. Requires a valid driver's license and a good driving record. Must have excellent oral and written communication/interpersonal skills.

Cox Media, a subsidiary of Cox Communications, offers advertising solutions and comprehensive client services including research, promotions and production services. Cox Media is currently looking for a Local Sales Manager. The purpose of this position is to achieve local advertising revenue objectives; provide leadership, train and motivate the local sales staff; and to maximize inventory through creative packaging, and promotions and controlling rates. The qualified applicant will possess a Bachelor's degree (strongly preferred), two to three years prior sales management experience, three to five years media sales experience, strong verbal and writing skills, strong mathematical and analytical skills, excellent interpersonal skills, strong presentation and sales skills, knowledge of local media market, and proficiency in Excel, Word or WordPerfect, Freelance Graphics, CableSCAN or other related software.

Cox Communications in Roanoke, VA has an opening for a Transmission and Data Engineer II. Responsible for designing, developing and implementing the access and transport network architecture. Develop an integrated network architecture that is compatible with desired network requirements and is interoperable with existing and evolving hybrid fiber/coax (Cable TV) and backbone networks. Perform system audits to determine optimization needs and requirements. Accompanies Account Executives and Outside Sales Representatives on sales visits, performs site surveys, and makes product recommendations for voice, video and/or data solutions. This position requires a Bachelors Degree in Engineering and/or equivalent experience, CCNA certification preferred, 3+ years relevant transport network & data experience, knowledge of communications industry, experience with Ethernet, Digital Telephony, FDDI and ATM equipment as well as DS-1 and DS-3 preferred, knowledge of SONET networks required, knowledge of transport (OC-12, OC-48, OC-3) required, knowledge of LAN/WAN, ATM, SNMP via UDP/IP and router technology preferred, strong leadership and motivational abilities, strong technical aptitude, ability to prioritize and perform multiple tasks, ability to work under minimal supervision within established guidelines, flexibility and receptiveness to a changing environment, willing to work in an on call rotation, computer skills including Windows based applications and must have a clean driving record and be able to travel to customer locations within the system.

Cox Media, a subsidiary of Cox Communications offers advertising solutions and comprehensive client services including research, promotions and production services. Cox Media is currently looking for an Account Executive to grow an existing client list and most importantly to develop new cable advertising clients. The incumbent is responsible for cultivating and maintaining effective communications and relations with customers and for servicing the account after the initial sale is made. The qualified applicant will possess 2 years of successful media sales or equivalent sales experience. Working knowledge of Power Point, Word, Excel, Neilsen, CableScan, and cable advertising experience is a plus. Knowledge of the local media market and local contacts is also a plus. A college degree is preferred and must have reliable transportation.
